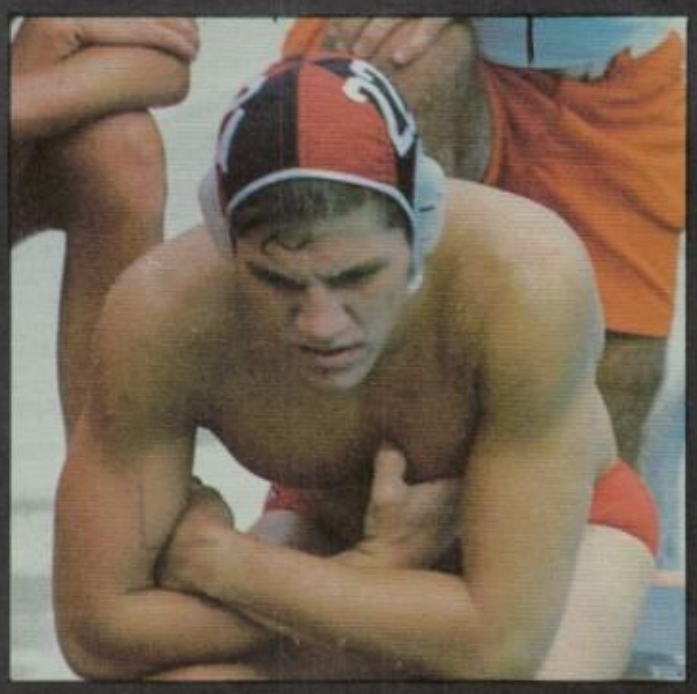
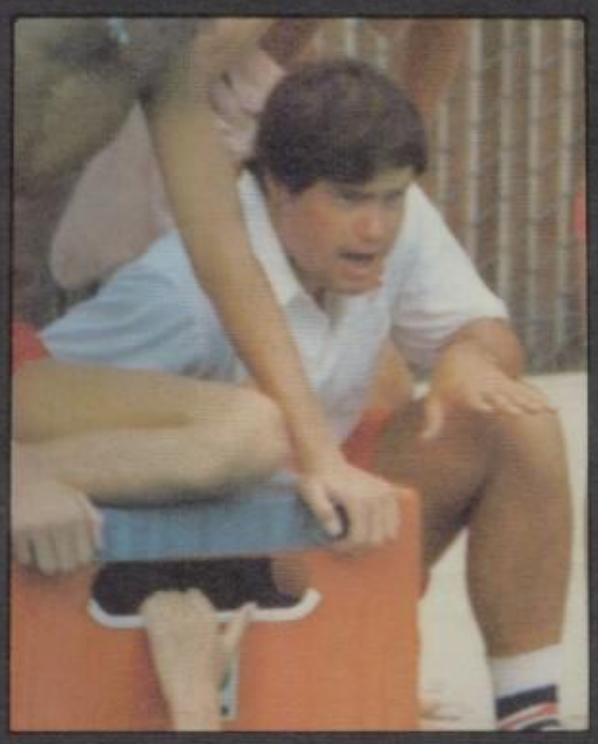
AGGRESS

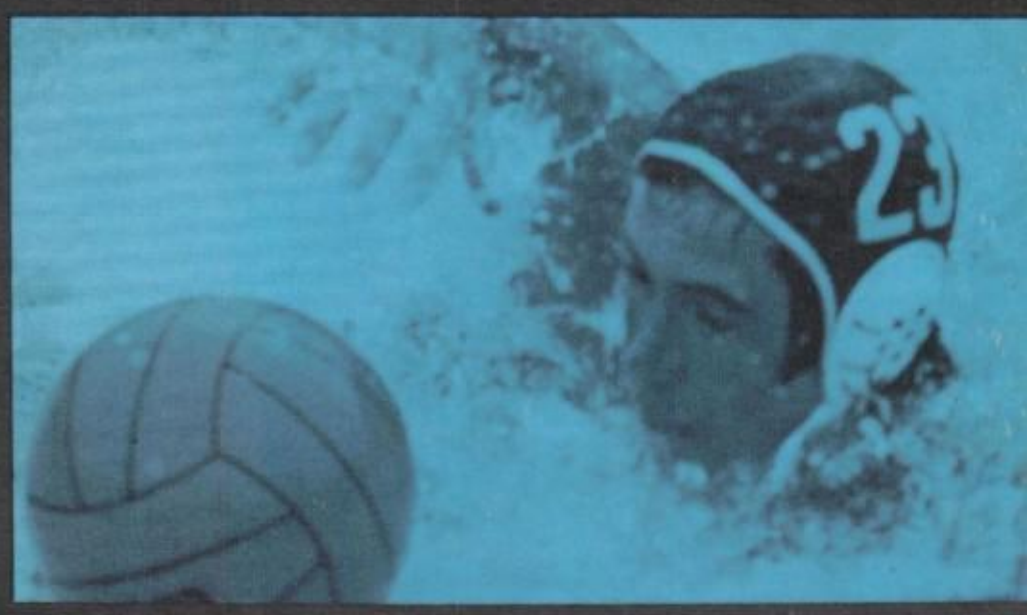
We tear into this new decade with a positive and aggressive feeling about the competition of Orange High's sports. In the history of Orange High, our school has gained a tradition of being a powerhouse in sports. Past alumni still support the teams by watching the games, even many years after their graduation.

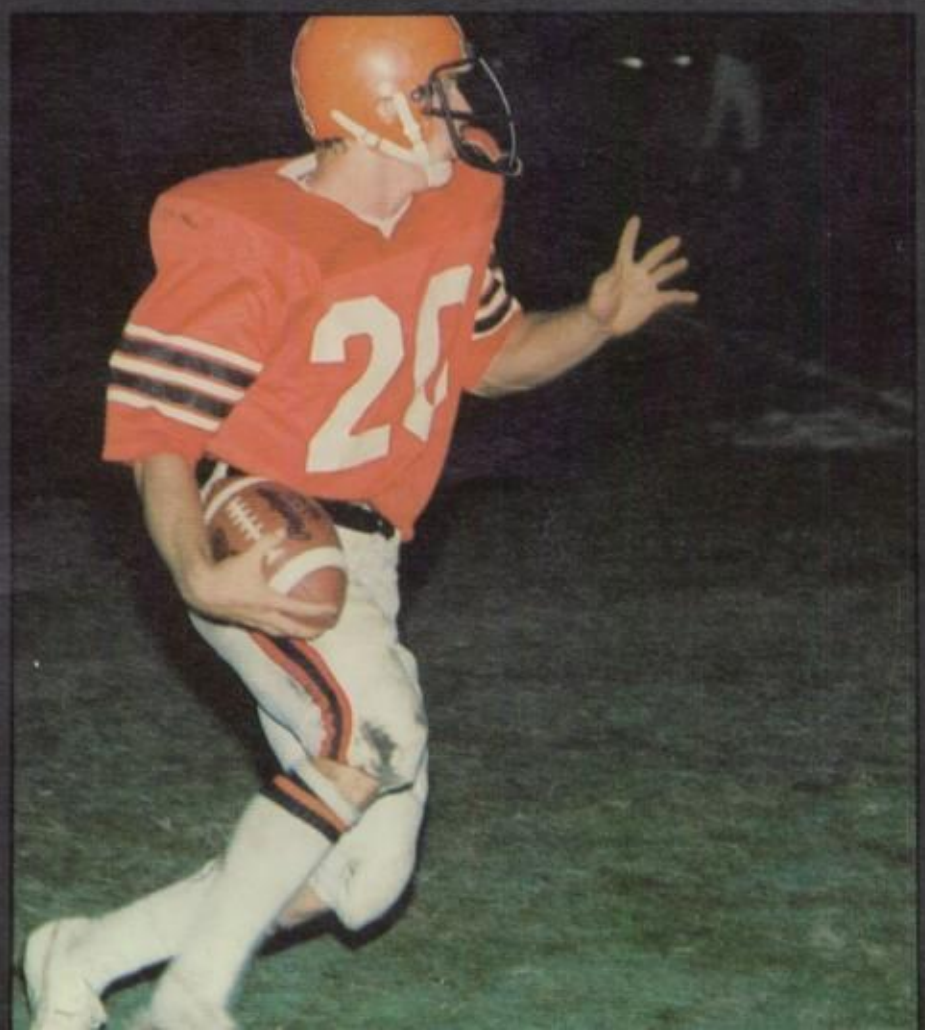
Competing on the various boys and girls sports teams, the athletes do not just grow in physical ability, but also grow morally as individuals. Athletes learn self-discipline, teamwork, unselfishness, commitment, dignity, competitiveness, and respect for fellow teamates and friends. The learning experience that can be achieved by being with a sports program is phenominal and will be beneficial throughout life. But most of all, the obvious benefit of being involved with Orange High sports is the fun of AGGRESSIVENESS.



IVELY . . .







THOUGHT

At the beginning of the year, as usual, the student's general attitude toward school is a negative one. After a while, one begins to get back into the study scene and he starts planning ahead for his college and career goals. The challenge now arises to reach these goals as he attends each class, being more enthusiastic about some than others.

Orange High provides an outstanding teaching staff and program, but it is the desire of each student to learn that will determine the quality of his education. Entering this new decade of advancing teaching techniques, it is hoped that Orange High will provoke this willingness to learn and desire for success

FULLY . . .

EXCITEDLY . . .

Activities start with the opening day assembly when the sophomores receive both their class name and the start of the year long joking harassment of being a "dumb sophomore". Everyone begins enjoying the opportunity of sharing his good times of summer with friends that haven't been seen for months.

As the year gets under way, students begin feeling the monotony of the tedious day in and day out routine. Orange High activities break this routine and provide excitement for everyone. These include assemblies, rec nights, lunch bands, spirit week, lunch time games and pep rallies. These activies along with the strong support of Orange High athletic teams provide excitement as we TEAR INTO THE '80s.

ASB

ASB Representatives

Before any school bell rang, the ASB began their work for the opening ceremony for the first day of school. Under this direction of Ms. Thielman, the activities for the year were planned. Each member of this team worked on his or her own special part of the ASB. Only a unique group of people could have planned and executed so many wonderful activities. Not many of our students recognize just how much the ASB has done for us. I am sure everyone at O.H.S appreciates their making our campus a better, more fun filled place.

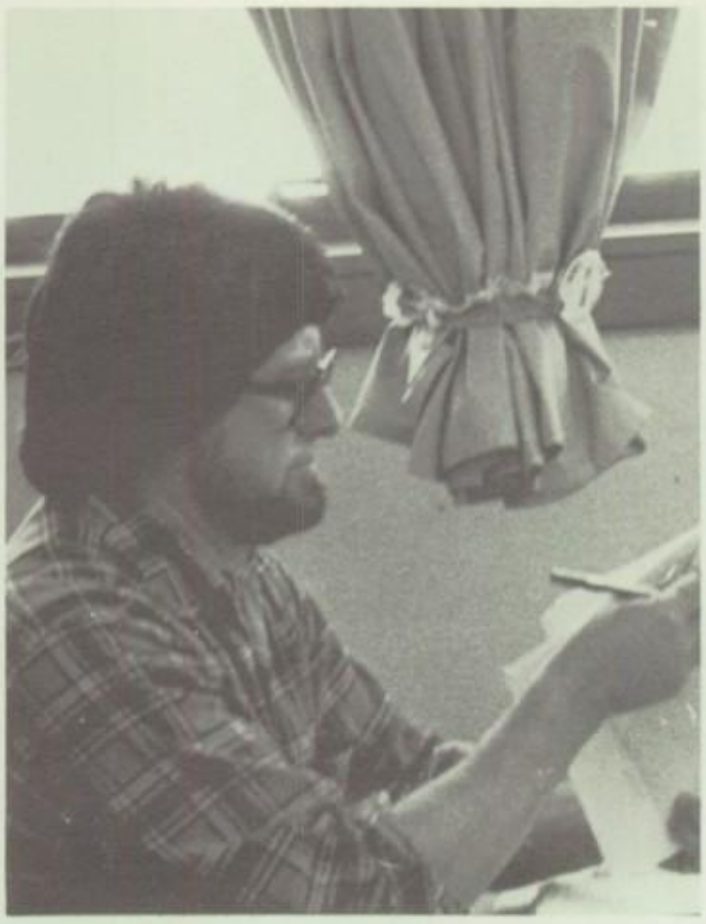
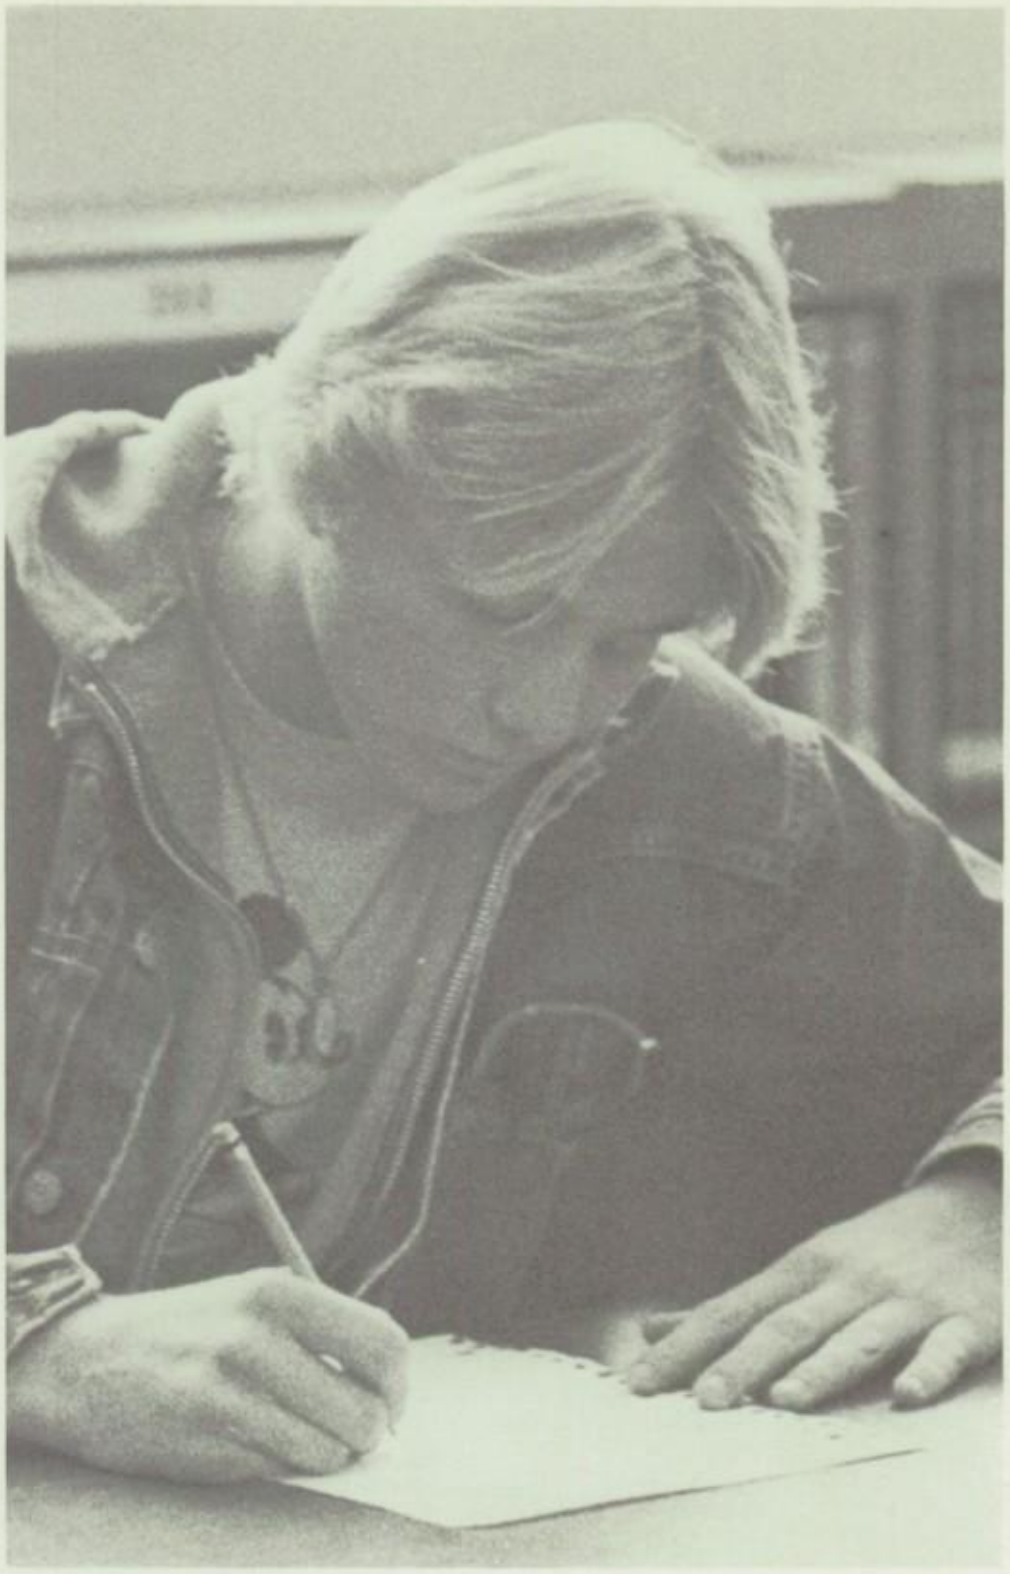
ACADEMICS

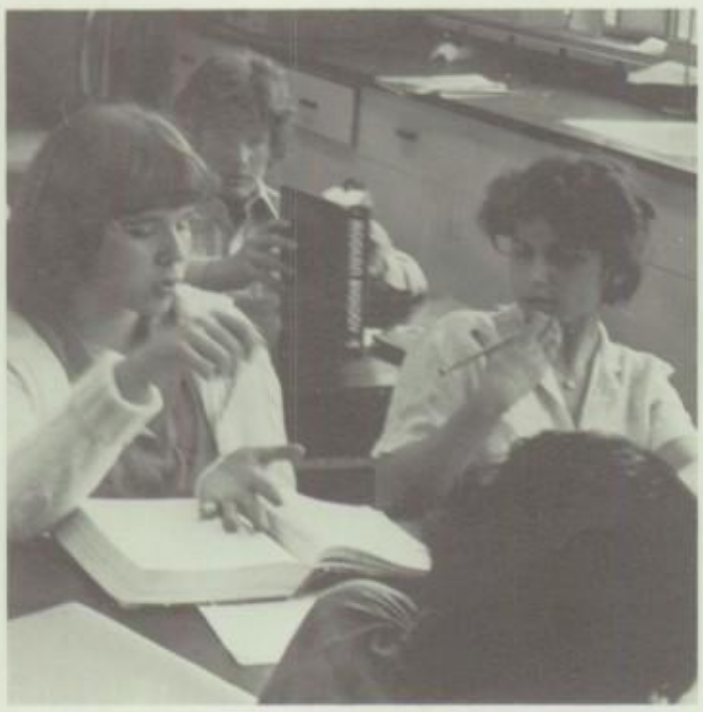
Proficiency Tests Standard

As of June 1980, all students are required to pass proficiency tests. A state law passed on September 10, 1976 requires all California students to demonstrate basic proficiency in comprehension, composition and math skills before graduating from High school. Before this law, students outside of the OUSD could graduate without passing any type of proficiency test. Although California is not the only state which requires proficiency tests, any student from out of state will have to pass these tests in order to graduate, if attending Orange High in their senior year. In addition to the three tests now required by the Hart Bill, the OUSD separately requires two other tests to be administered; consumer education and science.

For these two tests only, students who do not pass are able to take a class as a make-up. For consumer education a student will be required to pass a family living course. Students who fail the science proficiency will be required to take a science fundamental course. Ninth graders have the opportunity to pass the math composition and reading proficiency test in junior high, and more opportunities are available in high school.







Social Studies

The O.H.S. social studies department educates students on history and also brings them to the awareness of today's happenings.

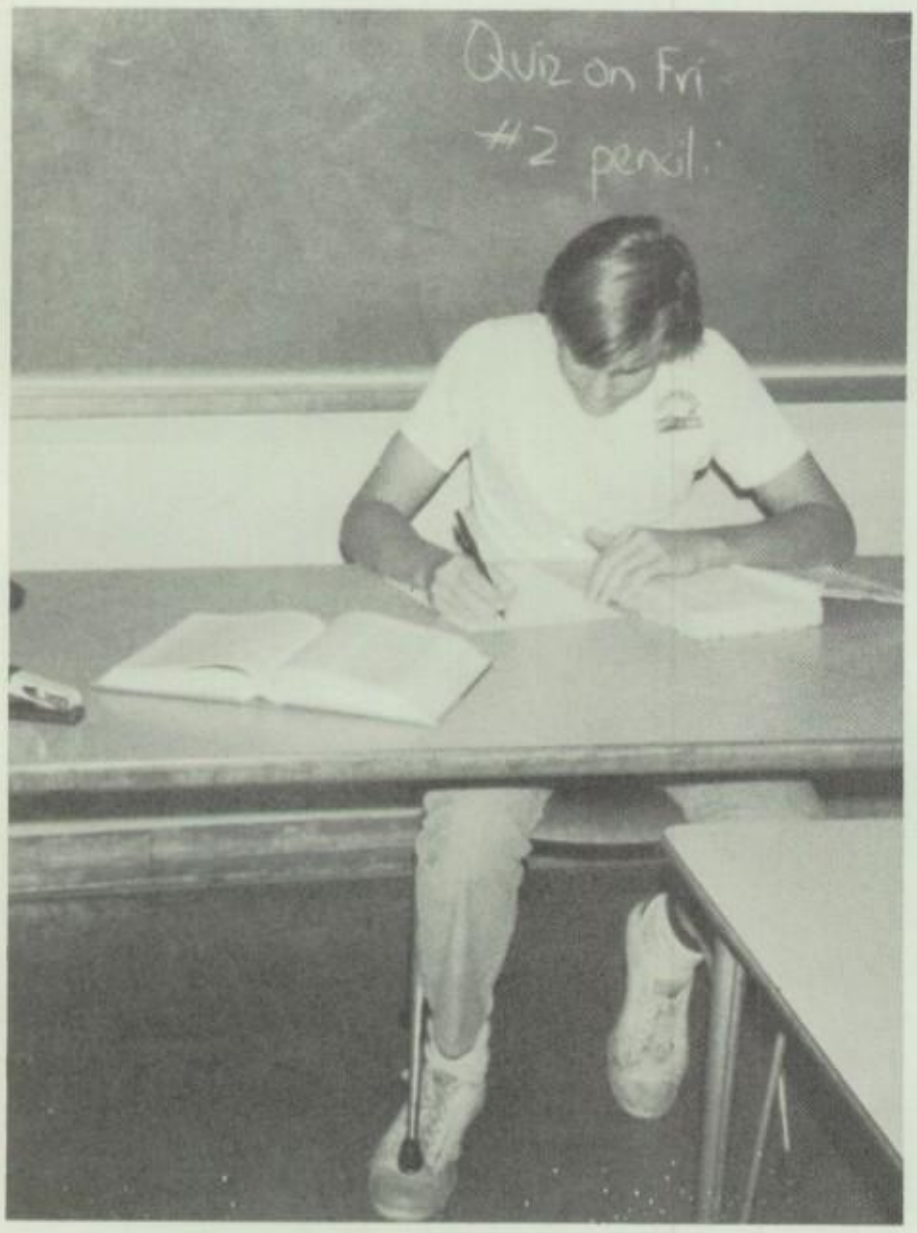
In sophomore or world history the students learn about the many problems of countries other than our own. In doing so they explore the many aspects of different cultures, customs and religions.

U.S. history is required of all junior students. Students here learn about American early life and the social battles throughout the Nixon administration.

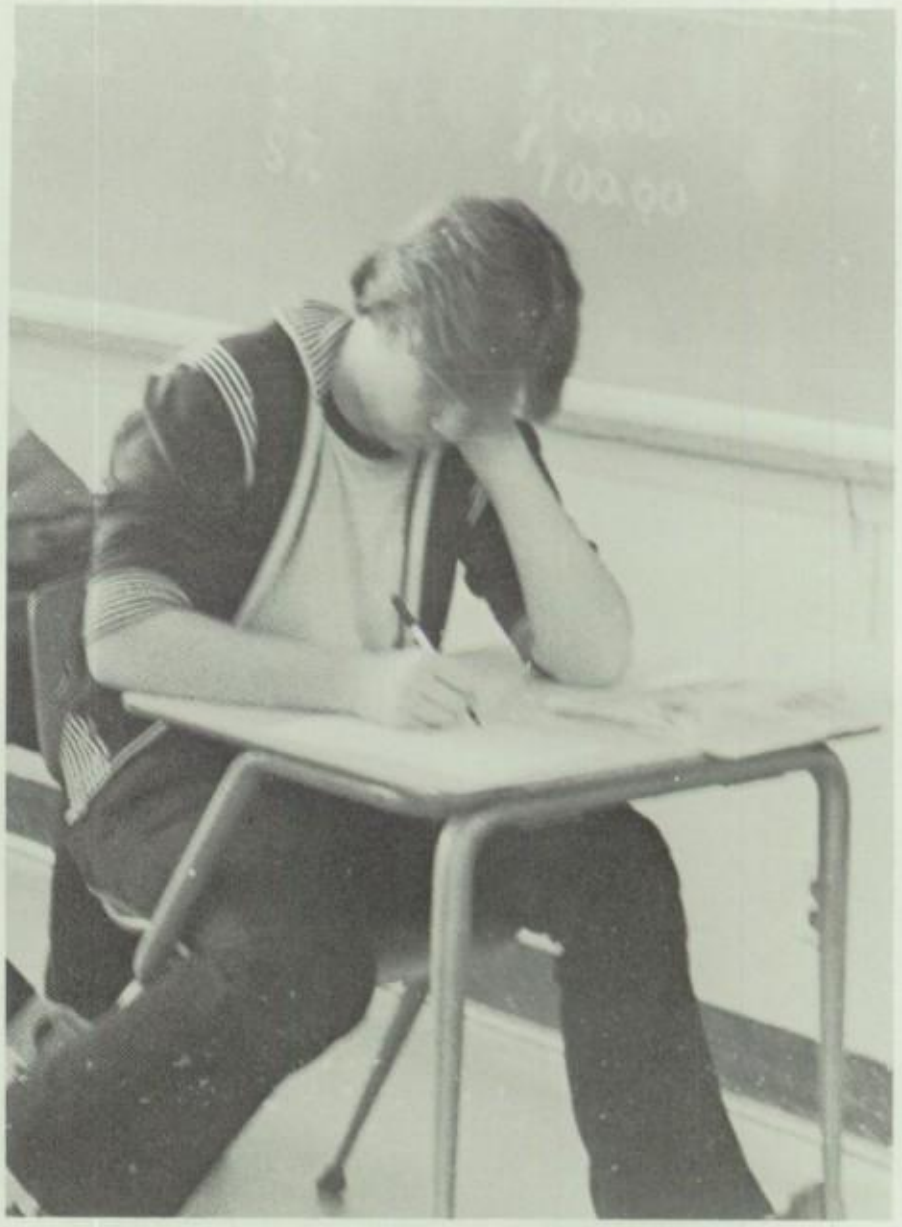
American Democracy, Comparative Systems and Social Psychology are classes offered to all senior social study students. Discussed in these classes are the U.S. governments and other such items as personality traits.

O.H.S. has a very refined and thorough way of teaching and covering historical education.

World history proves to be a challenging course, as students learn many aspects of years ago.



Terry Carrier researches George Washington, the main topic of a U.S. history project.



Alot of thought and concentration goes into taking a history test.

Science

Sophomore Kris Smith places an alcohol boiled leaf into an iodine solution to test for chloryphyll content. Projects such as these are done throughout the year in biology.

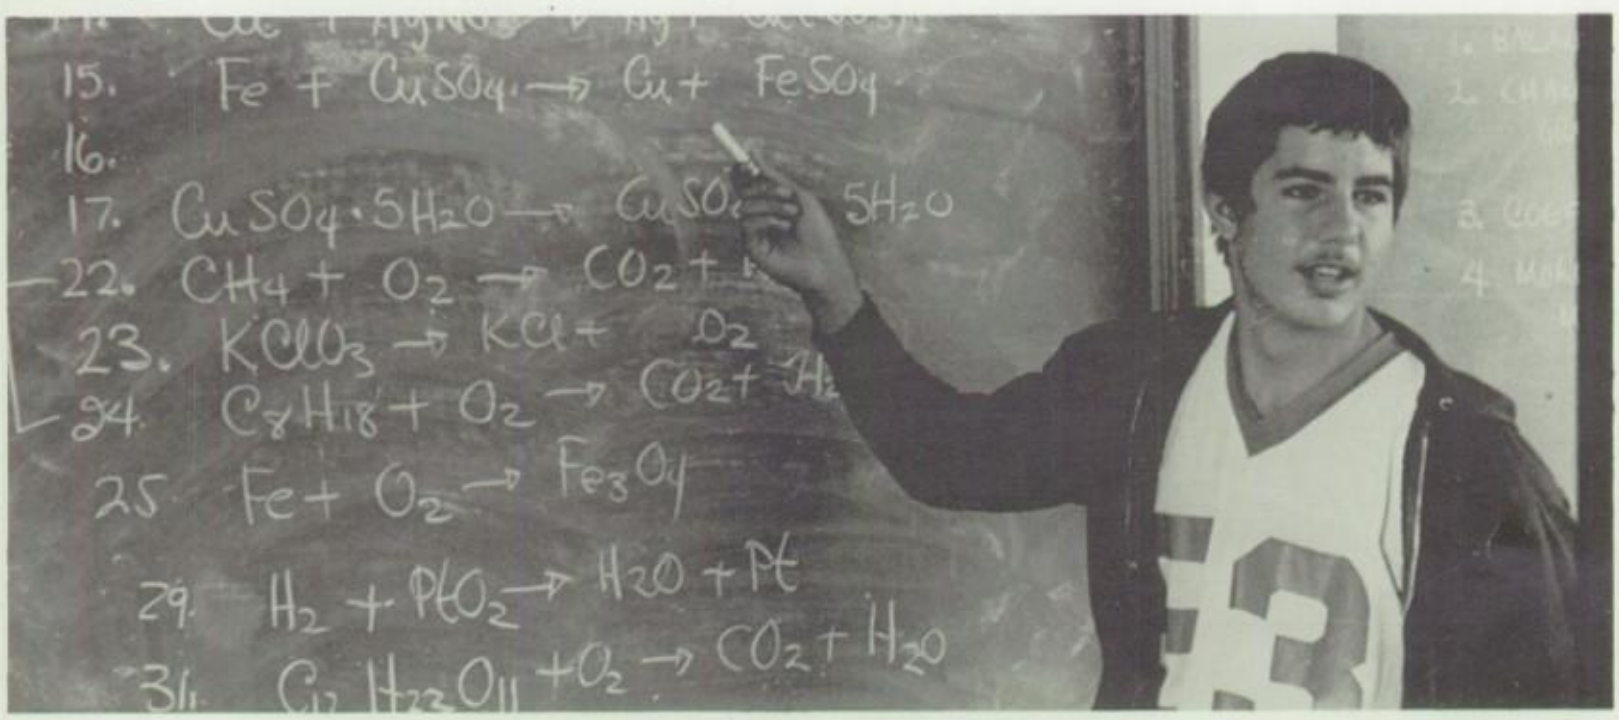
The Science department at Orange High teaches students in many fiends. Biology, chemistry and physiology are science classes commonly taken here at Orange High.

In Biology, students learn about life's existence, evolution of animal life and the functioning of living organisms.

Chemistry is an interesting class in which students use algebraic knowledge to study chemical make ups and reactions.

Physiology is a class run at college level, it is taught to juniors and seniors. The explanation of the human anatomy and body functions are explored to the endth degree.

Orange High's science department offers many fields to work in and explore.



15. Fe + CuSO4 → Cu + FeSO4
16.
17. CuSO4·5H2O → CuSO 5H2O
22. CH4 + O2 → CO2 +
23. KClO3 → KCl + O2
24. C8H18 + O2 → CO2 +
25 Fe + O2 → Fe3O4
29. H2 + PtO2 → H2O + Pt
31. C12 H22 O11 + O2 → CO2 + H2O

Balancing equasions was one of many things learned in chemistry. Mike Hawkins shows one class how easily it can be done.

Eric Hawkins calculates the density of elements.

Mr. "O" grades a chemistry lab turned in by one of his students.

Mathematics

Math students listen closely to lecture.

Eric Taber is stunned by his math teachers knowledge.

Mathematics is considered open, yet one year is required out of three. Students who must pass the proficiency test can take applied math as a preparatory course. If students wish to continue mathematics they can go as advanced as ICM after algebra and geometry are completed. Math is a college entrance subject.

Mathematics is available for those who wish to take it. The variety is on a wide scale.

Computer students work on programs. Students learn how to actually work on computers.

Jane Thorson learns basic addition.

Home Economics

Madeline Courtney prepares the main course for a formal luncheon served on Fridays.

The Camelot Tea room is the main attraction for the home economics department. The students prepare home made meals for luncheons on which are served on Tuesdays and Fridays. Fridays are more formal in the respect that a reservation is necessary. The members of the school board, parents, teachers and people of the community take advantage of this wonderous opportunity to enjoy a nutrious lunch at a low cost.

Mrs. Lockhart is the teacher for this class. The atmosphere and opportunity is pleasant. The type of experience would be helpful if a student is interested in an occupation such as a chef, restaurant manager or dietician.

Karen Hunter arranges salads to be served in the Camelot Tea Room.

Mrs. Mildred Fields, an O.H.S. graduate and former librarian dines in the Camelot Tea Room.

Working on different projects throughout the year, students such as Hope Christianello learn many dress making methods.

Business

The business department this year is well on its way to another successful year.

This course offers a variety of classes that will help students for job placement in the future. The classes that are offered are typing, beginning & advanced bookeeping, office work and business machines.

The business department at O.H.S. helps make it possible for many students to have a skill in the field of business.

Typing class works on.

Did I really type it like that?

Jeff Aton smiles for picture in typing class.

Expressions can tell it all.

Sophomore typist was caught looking at keys one too many times, therefore resulting in covered keys.

R.O.P.

The Regional Occupational Program is designed for students interested in on the job training. Credits not wages are earned for hours worked. The various fields students may work in include animal care, carpentry, banking, and medical jobs.

Barbara Kline and Jane Pittman experience animal care at Russo's Pet shop.

Alan Sieber, instructor supervises Lela Salcido while cutting hair.

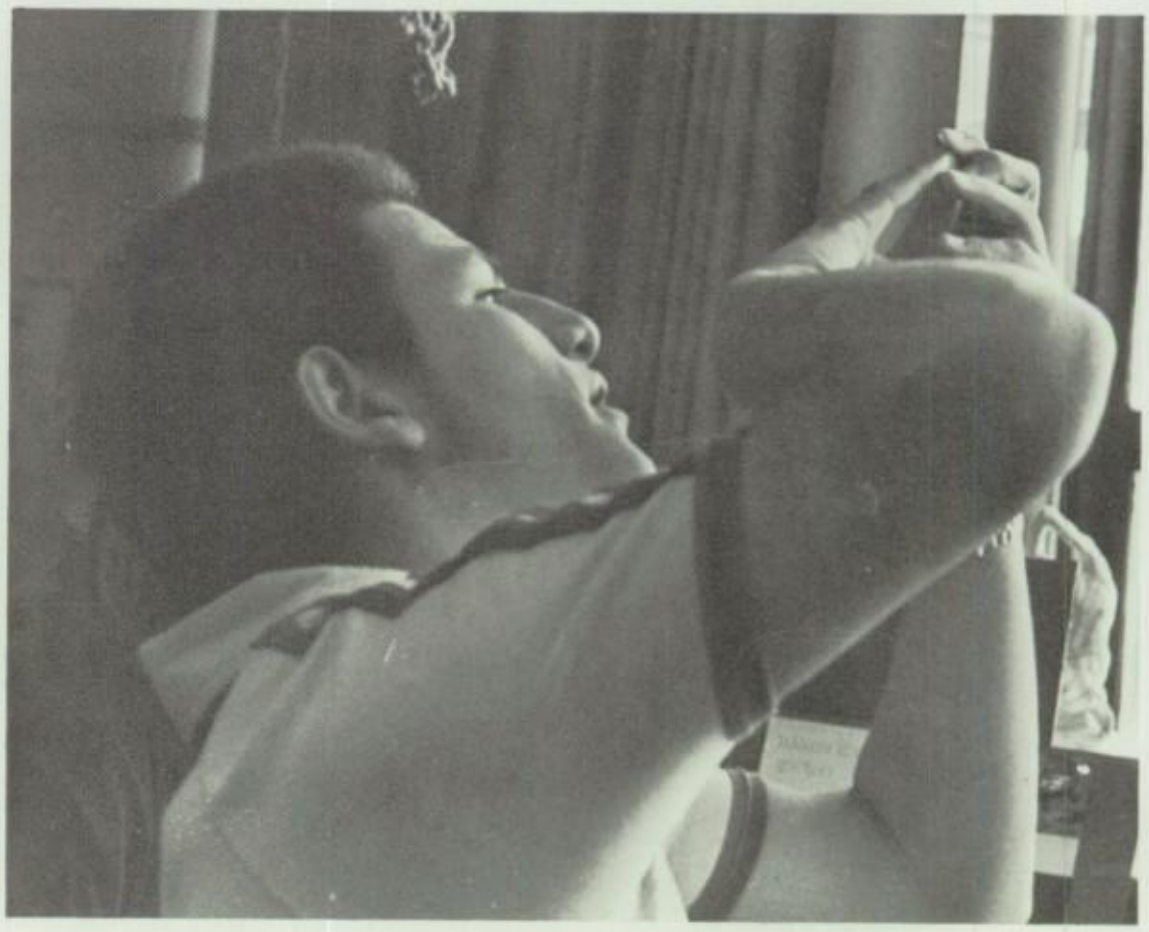
Ray Alvardo aides the physical education department at Portola Junior High.

Leslie Clifton and Vickie Vela prepare for a trim on Susie Hatch.

Arts & Crafts

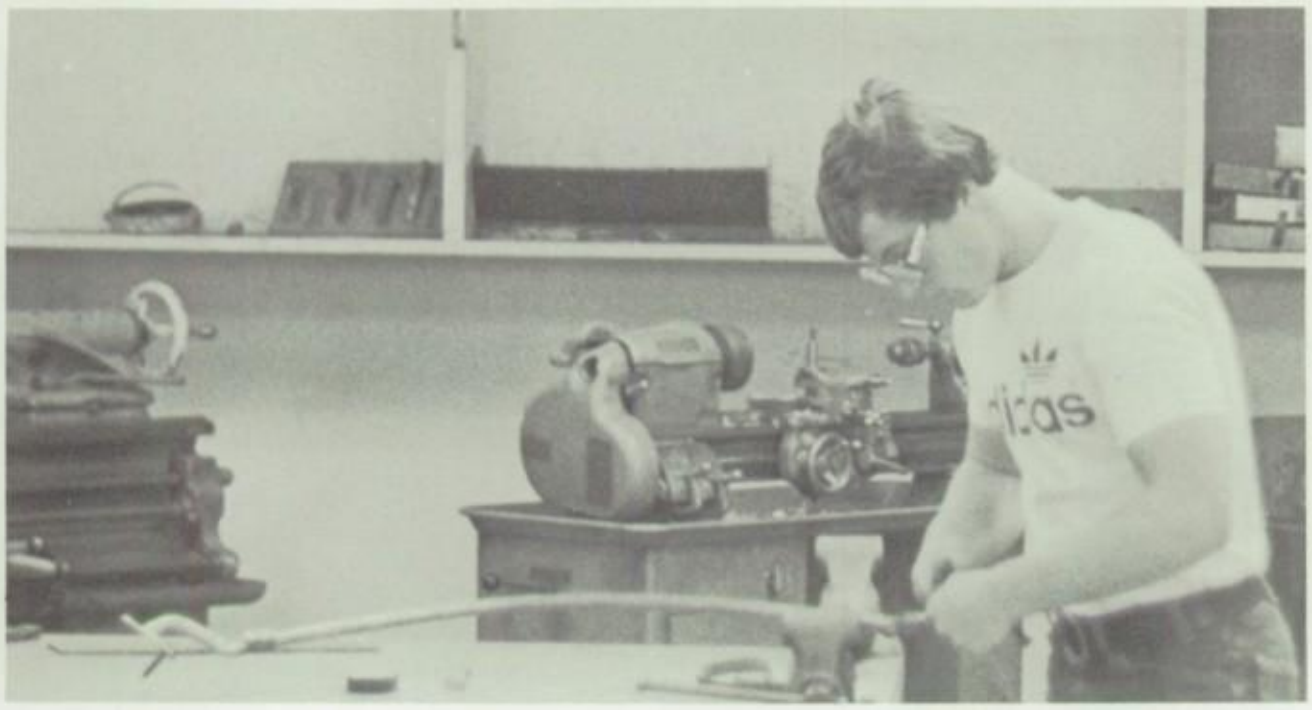
This year's arts & crafts class offers many choices. In the art department students work on paintings, sketches and other projects related to art. In crafts, students work on ceramics, photography and jewelry. In the arts & crafts department students use their imagination to create beautiful projects. Creating these projects is a great achievement to each and every student in the class.

Debbie Graf and Joanna Vaughn work on art projects.



Bob Padilla carves a finger out of wood.

Industrial Arts



The industrial arts department at O.H.S. offers several courses to be taken by all students. A few are as follows; metal, autoshop, wood, machine, and drafting. All of these courses are somewhat helpful to students after graduation. For example, auto shop teaches a student how to give a car a tune up. Wood becomes helpful when it comes to making household items. Also drafting becomes useful if you decide to become a architect.

The industrial art department has become a very popular class this year among girls and boys.

Ron Reese has a "vice" of his own.

Sparks fly in metal shop as various projects are worked on.

A metal box is this students choice of projects.

A metal shop student toys with his creation.

Band And Drill Perform

The O.H.S. Band has suffered much this year. The Band, usually a top contender in the state, has droped dramatically in its performances and capabilities. Mr. Wolf, a new teacher at Orange, is the new leader of our once mighty band. Under his guidance, things seem to be looking better. New uniforms were purchased this year, making a big difference over the old, worn out ones used for so many years. The drill team, directed by Ms. Shibata, performs along with the band. The members of the Drill Team spend hours of practice trying to perfect their routines. Not enough credit has been given to the Band and Drill Team which have performed exelently under difficult conditions.

K. White, K. Delsandro, K. Millis and J. Castle await their cue.

Drum major Barron Ramos leads the band during one halftime show.

Sandy Beauchamp, Karen Mamchur and Teresa Welch demonstrate disco skills.

Drill members Nancy Shaffer and Melanie Doss enjoy the crowd's attention.

Jazz Band And Choir

The OHS Jazz band is comprised of a group of OHS musicians. The band plays pieces of music unvailable in marching band or orchestra. The jazz band was not organized very well, because the emphasis was put on marching band. There did exist a band however it was not very well composed and performance was limited. This band does however provide an outlet for musicians, with different interests in music other than marching songs.

The Choir groups performed in many competitions throughout the year. The chamber singers participated in the El Modena Invitational, a competiton in which many schools are involved. The Choir is taken as a class which results in extense practicing.

Lisa Frey plays saxophone during 4th period jazz class.

Women's Chorus - Donna Conger, Cassie Beauchamp, Angela Scherer, Poxanne Rounkles, Lorene Garcia, Miss Dulisse, Gail Lerfald, Amber Hike, Lynn Minnis, Cathy Shararian, and Suzy Hatch.

Women's Ensemble - Tina Grande, Debbie Stephens, Cindy Blalock, Eva Jonsson, Susan Harris, Dawn Vandenburg, Kathy Hennessy, Pam Skiles, Angela Wilson, Marie Brenneman, Dee Williams, Tammy Stover.

Mr. Wolf plays saxophone for the Orange High Jazz Band.

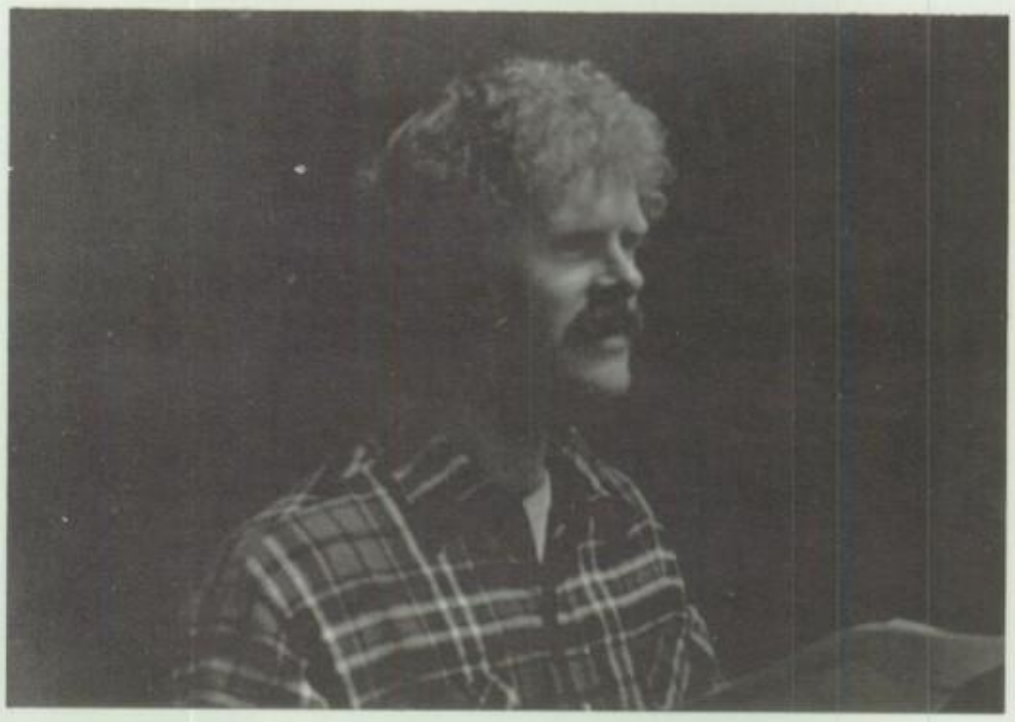
Dan Squires practices on drum for jazz band.

Students in jazz band play their tumpets for practice and enjoyment.

Drama

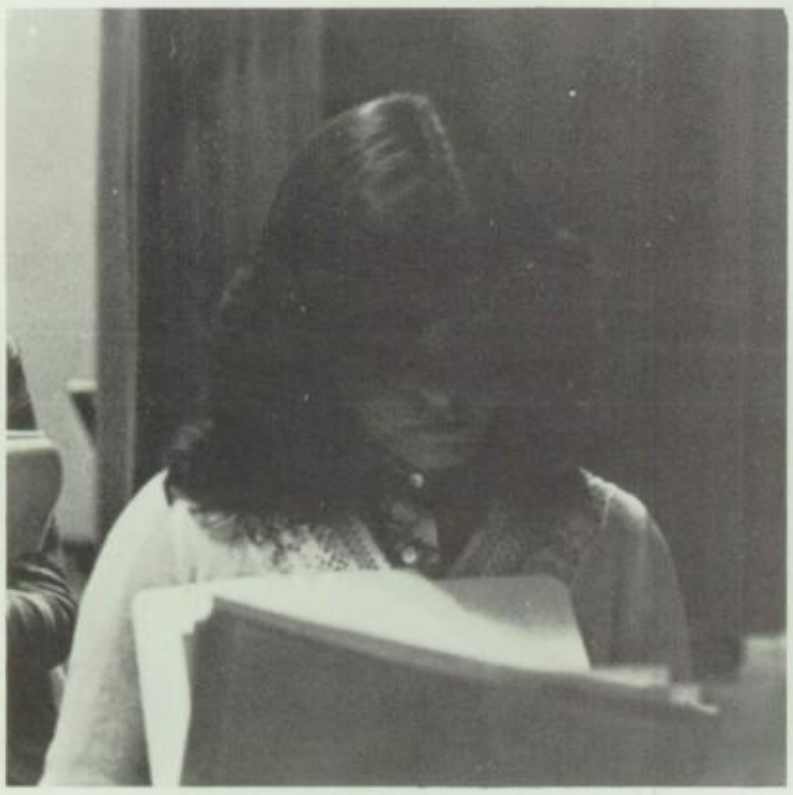
Along with the Drama club at OHS, there is also a drama class that may be taken by students as an English elective. This is an interesting and creative class. The Drama class performs plays during their class period. The Drama club performs for the whole student body and parents also. This club is very talented and might perhaps include several acting talents. There have been various plays ranging from horrors to comedies. Audiences are captured by casts' funny and entertaining antics.

The cast listens to possible improvements.



Mr. Woods, Drama Instructor, goes over the script with students.

Actress Maggie Cosell is shocked by the news.



Stacy Carson studies her lines.

Eden Christensen captivates audiences in the play, "Cheaper by the Dozen".

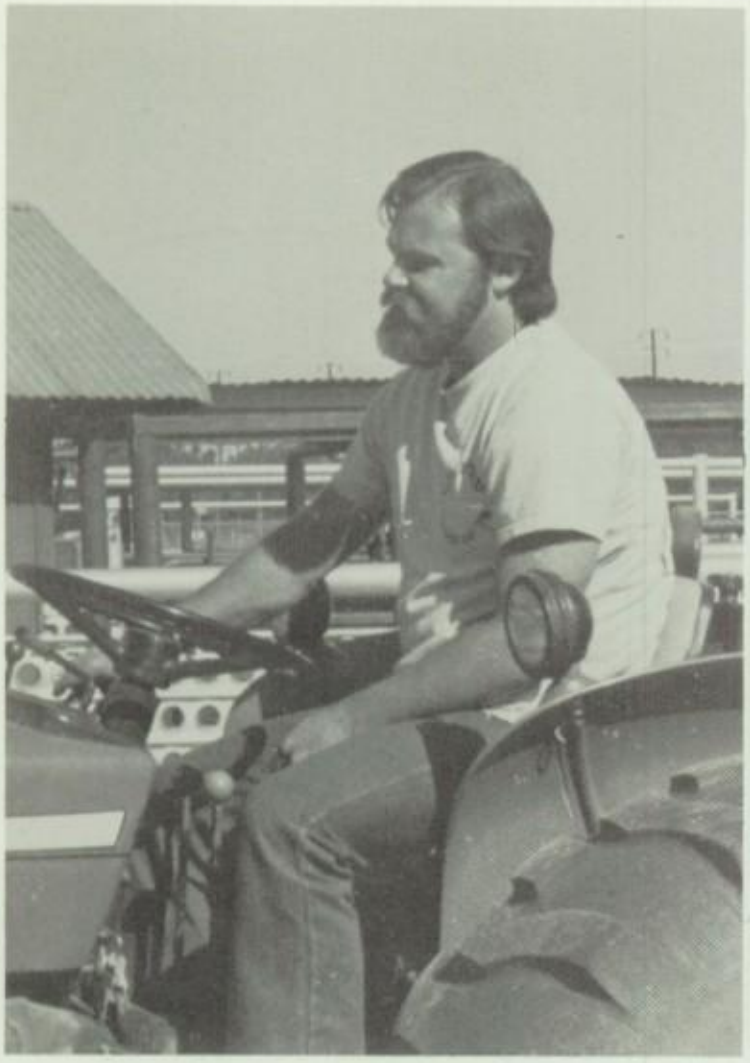
The cast must decide whether or not the couch should be replaced.

Mr. Woods shows students how a scene should be done.

Believable acting by Joe Sigalas proves entertaining.

Anne Locke listens intently to an acting partner.

The spotlight sets as two OHS students perform in "Cheaper by the Dozen".



Mr. Bowen's assistant parking the tractor.

Mr. Bowen is hard at work.

Ag./Hort.

This year agriculture and horticulture are classes in which students learn how to raise levestock such as steers and lambs. Agriculture offers facilities to keep these animals in so they are properly cared for by students. The animals require constant maintenance and repair which result in the students coming to visit their animals on the weekends.

Horticulture students learn how to plant various vegetables and plants. The students learn how to select crops on the basis of shape, size and color.

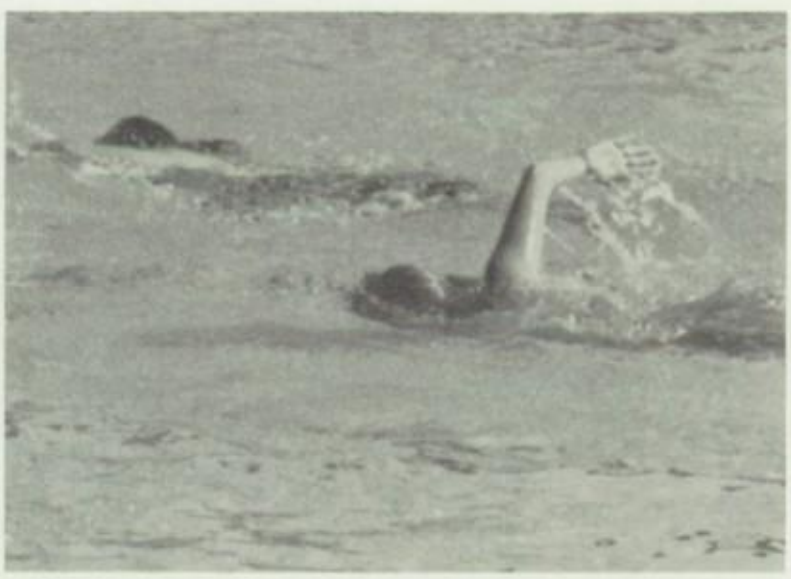
SPRINKLERS! The crops are saved!

Please don't feed the bears?

Physical Education

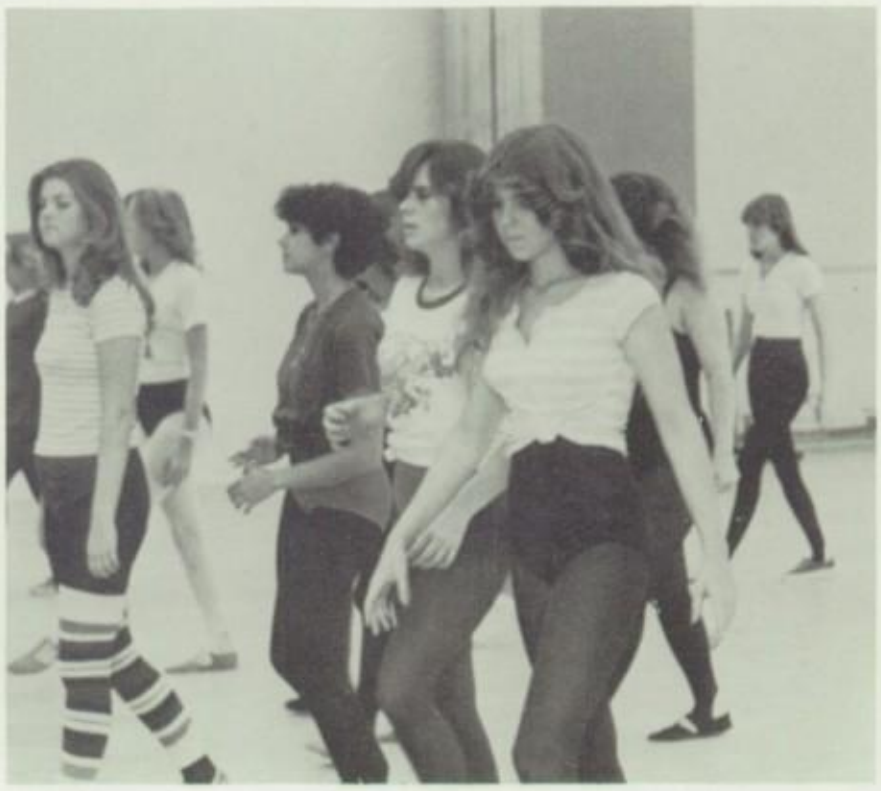
The Physical education department is for students who wish to participate in such activities as racquetball, basketball, softball, tennis, volleyball, and soccer. Students do various exercises involving stretching before their activities. All classes are physical and competitive.

Basketball skills are gained in the coed Physical Education.



A swimming class exercises forward strokes.

Students practice new techniques in dance class.



Dance students time their selves for a new and modern dance.

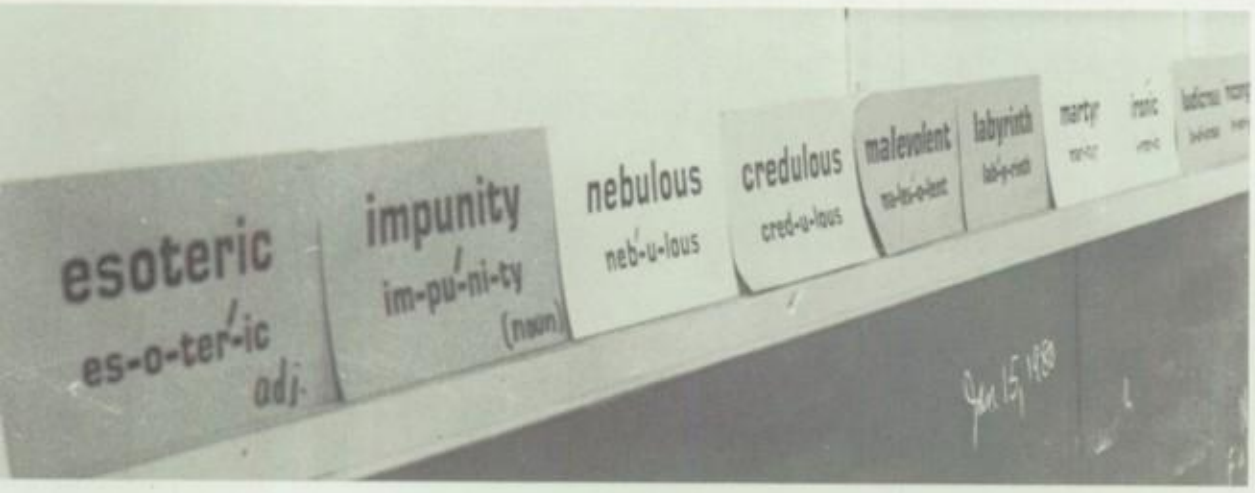
Acreditation And

During the 1979-80 school year, Orange High once again participated in a school accreditation process in cooperation with the State Department of Education. Accreditation is a process of continuous self-study and evaluation designed by the state to encourage improvement in areas such as school staffing, curriculum, facilities and programs.

As a result of the accreditation process, a team of evaluators spent four days in March visiting the OHS campus. The role of the evaluating team is to observe the school's functions, to talk to staff and students about their needs, and to make a list of recommended improvements. For example, the 1975 accreditation report encouraged improvements such as increasing the size of the library, enlarging the science department and offering more courses for college-bound students. Due to Orange's high standards, we are only required to go through accreditation once every five years. Many schools must submit to the evaluators every two years.

The accreditation process ensures consistent educational requirements for graduation throughout the state and guarantees that students' credits will be accepted by state colleges and universities.

Words Of The Week



The word-of-the week program was started this year at Orange High School. This program is used to expand students vocabulary and increase variations in writing. The words used in this program may be found on the PSAT or SAT tests which when taken determine the students knowledge in various fields of education. These tests are also used for college information. Every week a new word is given to students and along with the various English classes offered; reading, writing, and vocabulary skills are improved upon.

Then, throughout the rest of the week the individual cultural arts-dance, drama and music-performed for OHS classes during studio hours. The Drama Dept. performed a number of one act plays, including a villainous play written by an ex-OHS student. Other performances were given by Dance Production which allowed students to view Disco, Classical, and tap dancing. The week ended with a duel appearance by the OHS Jazz Band and Choir, in which both ensembles shared the stage cooperatively. The week was viewed by faculty and students as a great success.

We worked very hard to put together the memories of the 1979-'80 school year. During the process of recording the events into this book, we made friendships, grew as people, hd fun and went through many difficult and stressful situations.

Before the year was halfway over, our advisor, Wes Peterson took sick-leave because of a serious illness. This left us without an advisor for quite a while. With extra work from our editor, John Ediger, and when he was sick, from Robert Lin, our business and advertising editor, we made it through the crisis. Lynda Zwinger arrived from Richland to take Mr. Peterson's place. With her valuable leadership and a cooperative second-semester staff, we managed to meet the final deadline.

As a staff of all juniors, who had little to no knowledge of the production of an annual before the year began, we are very proud of this great accomplishment. We hope that you enjoy this account of the year's memories and we are certain that its worth will increase with time.

Sincerely,
Your 1980 Orange and White staff

McMahon's Best Team Beats V.P., Foothill, Tustin

The 1979 season started off strong with an impressive 42-18 win over John Glen. But then the Panthers slowed down with two losses to El Dorado and Kennedy. Then ROT came to "Orange High". "ROT", otherwise known as "Raid On Tustin", was a great success with Orange boasting a 31-0 win. Then the Panthers slowed down three more times against Santa Ana Valley, El Modena, and league champion Santa Ana who won by one touchdown.

During Monday's practice after a 6-3 win over rival Villa Park, the football team was called into a meeting. At this meeting Coach McMahon told the team he was resigning because of a letter the team received before the Villa Park game. The letter, that was supposedly sent from Villa Park, was later said to have come from McMahon's staff. McMahon later withdrew his resignation and was put on probation and was not allowed to coach either of the last two games. Coach Prelesnik took over those games and pulled out a 21-20 victory over Foothill but lost to the play-off bound Comanches 23-14. Leading the offense this year was thousand yard rusher Roger Westergard. The defense was lead by leading tacklers Dave Darsow and Todd Robinette.

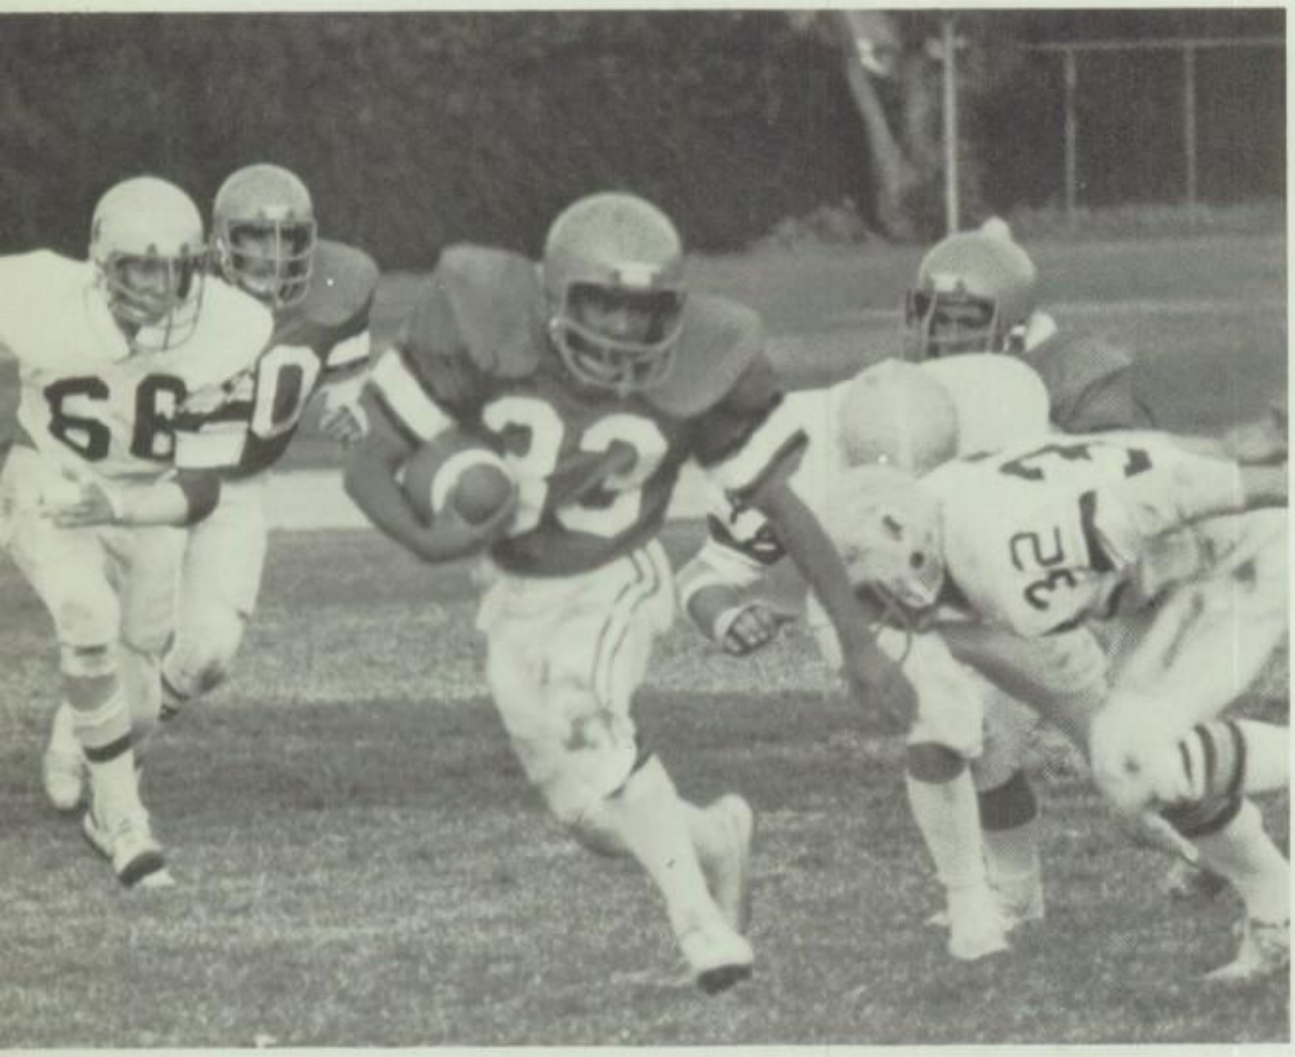
Talented Panthers Provide Hope For Future



This year's sophomore team showed good effort in sportsmanship as well as on the field. Coach Walker did a good job as head coach, teaching the boy's new skills and how to excell at them. Coaches Neal and Long did an excellent job with the linemen, as did Coach Valdez with the offensive and defensive backs. Judging by some great individual performances this year, many of these guys will help OHS as great varsity players. Jim Acuna did an excellent job at fullback, as well as being the leader in tackles. Kevin Deacon was excellent as quarterback, while Edmund Alipo-on led the way for rushing at tailback. Even though they did not win many games this year, the sophomores of today look like good prospects for tomorrows varsity.

VARSITY SHOWS PRIDE AND DEDICATION

"WE'RE GOING TO MAKE LIFE MISERABLE FOR VILLA PARK!!"
Coach Frank, And that we did. Just as the football team ruined Villa Parks homecoming, the basketball team ruined Coach Tarabilda's homecoming. He was last years J.V. coach here at Orange. He brought his Spartans to Orange only to lose by a wide margin. Good hustle by the Panthers led to an eventful season, with the fans behind the team all the way. Not enough can be said about all the support the Panther basketball team received this year. At the game with Santa Ana at the Orange Dome, when a Saint player threw a punch at Brian Wright, almost instantly the entire OHS student body was on the court ready to help out. There will be four returning varsity players next year, and along with this years J.V. team, next years varsity may take the Century League once again.

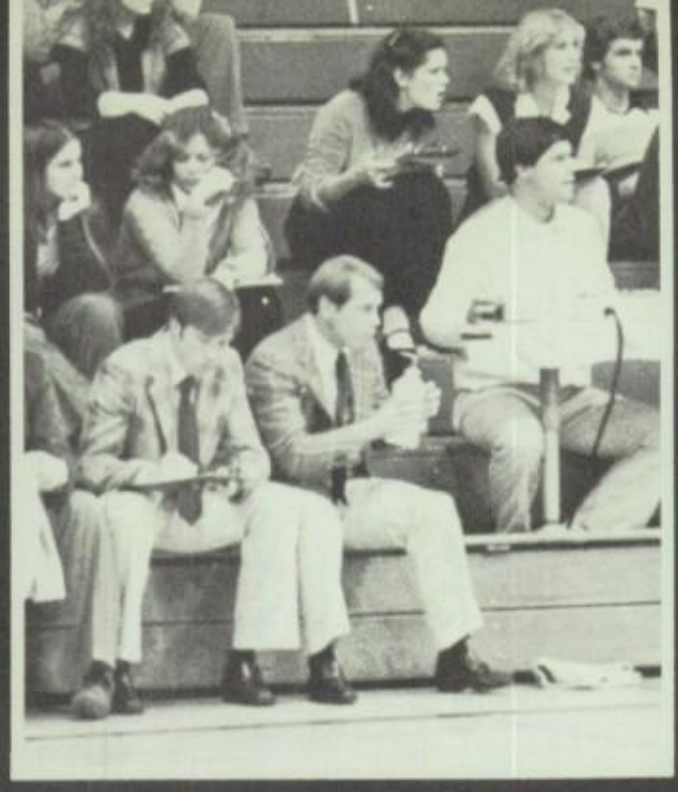
The Century league, being one of the toughest this year, was quite a challenge for Coach Frank and his highly disciplined team. They worked extremely hard in practice and their hustle and determination showed on the court. The season ended with a 4-10 record having beaten Villa Park twice, upsetting Canyon and stomping all over the Santa Ana Saints 83 to 56. With the help of the intense and very supportive student body filling the Orange "Dome" weekly, the season could not at all be called a failure. Orange anticipates a successful season next year with returning guards Todd Mezzulo and Mike Kelly along with other talented players on this years J'V' team.



The defending Orange High Century League champs did a great job under the fine coaching of Coach Frank, last years coach of the year. (Shown above in some of his familiar poses in a typical exciting Century League contest against Canyon). One of the problems the team suffered this year was lack of height on the boards. This year seemed to be a "Year of giants" with most teams averaging much higher in height than in previous years.

There will be many returning players next year that should help Orange regain it's reign in the Century League basketball program.

The Junior Varsity team this year had a very tough season ending it with only a 2-12 record. In pre-season this team received the third place throphy in the Loara tournament. Dave Pierce alsó won a "most valuable player" trophy at this tournament. The team entered league play strongly confident, but the competition of the highly-rated Century league was too much for them. The loss of starting forward John Ediger to mononucleosis weighed heavily on the team.

The JV basketball season is generally a learning experience to get the players ready for Varsity. Those who saw this team play saw immense improvement as the season progressed. Led by the newly acquired coach, Vic Woodward, the team was generally a young one and consisted of three sophomores and six juniors. Practicing with the team but ineligible for league play until next year were Garrid Reed and Mark Vinson. Ernie Walthers and Dave Pierce, both sophomores, did extremely well and have hope for a very promising future.

Sophomore Basketball

The sophomore basketball team did not have a spectacular season this year. They did have some fine shooters, rebounders, and passers though. Steve Duarte was a fine shooter and accounted for many of the teams' points. Bob Borne with his height, was a very good rebounder. The team needed some height and Bob was the man. Duffy Sanders with his "show-off" style passing and manuvering added to the spirit of the team. With more coaching and enthusiasm, these players will become fine basketball players for Orange High.

The Water Polo team this year had it's best record ever in the history of Orange High. Although they did not make it to C.I.F, the team was very tough. Mark Bradshaw contributed greatly and made first team all league goalie. Leonard Willingham was an outstanding all around player making second team all league.

There were many outstanding players on this years team, and several potential Orange County all-stars. Among the best were these eight graduating seniors who played their last game for Orange High this year: Joe Chung, Reza Yadollahi, Fidel Alatorre, Ali Kazemaini, Chris Parra, Jose Alfredo Ramirez, Mehdi Roshani, and Mike Hennessey.

This track season turned out to be another successful one. Two more coaches were added to the staff, they were Robert Slick and Neil Skarin. Mr. Slick coached an awesome group of distance men lead by Senior Mike Sanderfer and Junior Dan McGaha. Mr. Skarin produced a fine discus and shot put team. Bill Crutchfield and Joe Kelly were top highjumpers. There was a great turn out of sophomores that added greatly to the size of the team. A few outstanding sophomores were Robbie Smith, Nick Vogue, and Mike McGaha. Head Coach Carter ran the team and coached sprinters such as, Joe Metz and Chris Para. Dan Smith Wrestles Fourth In State Finals

Senior Dan Smith was Orange High School's outstanding "one-man team" wrestler this season. Lacking both an on-campus coach and the support of other teammates, Dan, nevertheless, had 27 regular season wins and no losses. His first loss of the season came at the CIF preliminaries and was considered an upset. However, Dan went on to place fourth in the state finals held at Cal State Los Angeles.

Newcomers to Coach Dave Zirkles Varsity are Kevin Moffat, Bob Gilbertson, Robby Gross and Cary Randy. Leading one of the finest JV Teams in recent years are Dan Kirwan, Mike Parella, Scott Bales and Mike Swart. This years sophomore group was the best in OHS history, with Don Marthens, Scott Johnson, Nimrod Gohil Tim Mounce and Khuong Tran.

With as many as four underclassmen playing Varsity, and winning, the future at OHS in Tennis seems certain to continue.

This year's Junior Varsity Team continued the winning ways of the Varsity. It was the fifth straight year that their victories numbered in double figures. The highlights of this team are the balance shown between the singles and doubles players—as both won with regularity. Some of the outstanding players in singles were Khuong Tran (Soph), Mike Johnson (Soph) and Don Marthens (Soph). The doubles consisted of Mike Parrelua (Jr.) Mike Swart (Jr.) Hung Nguyen (Jr.), Scott Bales (Jr.) and Jim Hayes (Jr.). This group should make our Varsity next year very tough.

Sophomore Tennis Keeps Winning Tradition

Being the sixth year that OHS has had a sophomore tennis team, this years' edition followed the winning tradition for the previous five years. The sophomore record is 79 wins and 9 losses. The 1980 team did not hurt this record. Led by a talented group of singles, Don Marthens, Tim Mounce, Nimrod Gohil, and Scott Johnson, the OHS tennis future looks bright. In doubles, Dan Stotts, Tim Wickersheim, and Isidro Velazquez lead the way.

The Golf team anticipated a fine season. The size of the team has increased since last year as more students show their golfing talents. Coach Hal Hicock has confidence in his team. The great coaching has improved many golfers on their game. Orange appreciates the golf teams dedication to a very skillful sport.

"Baseball is mental as well as physical!!"-Coach Judson. With that slogan very much in mind, the varsity baseball team accomplished many goals this season. Strong pitching held up in tight situations. An air-tight infield consisted of Dave Wisniewski at first, Kevin Carson at second, Ed Nelson at shortstop, and Jeff Helm at third. A strong defensive outfield was Gary May in left, Mark Morrow in center, and Mike Meyer in right. Luke Gregory was the designated hitter throughout most of the season. The pitching staff this year was one of the finest at Orange in a while. The pitching staff was made up of Randy Adams, Tim Grachen. Kurt Musick, and John Hennessey. All in all, the varsity baseball team showed us an eventful season.

J.V. Baseball

This year's J.V. baseball team was undoubtedly one of the best to reach Orange High in a number of years. Under the fine coaching of Coach Galeener the J.V.'s excited many large crowds this season. This year's team was comprised mainly of juniors with a few good sophomores tossed in. One of the main qualities the J.V.'s had this year was the ability to play as a team. Strong pitching, consistent hitting, and just plain all-around hustle attributed to their success. Coach Judson's philosophy of playing good, sound, mental baseball influenced the J.V.'s also. All in all, the J.V.'s give us great expectations for next year's varsity.

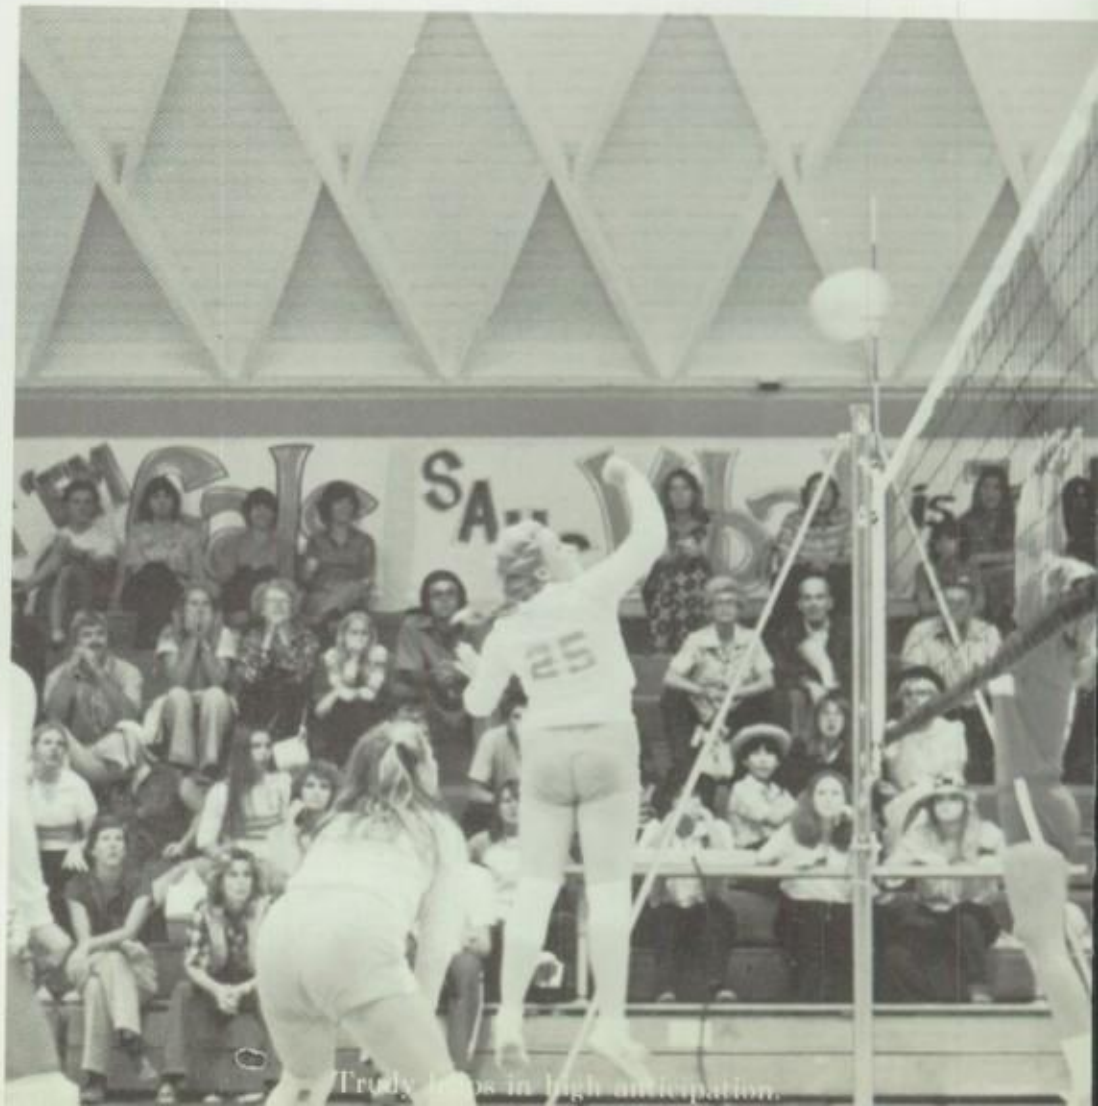
What a set!

The Varsity volleyball team began working out last May and continued their pre-season conditioning throughout the summer. The extra practice time paid off; the team ended up with a record of 5-2 first round, losing only to Santa Ana and Foothill. Second round the fight for third place was quite a battle, and the Panthers lost some crucial matches. As a result, the team missed a berth in CIF playoffs by one win.

It was a tough season, but Orange High is becoming one of the top three teams in the Century League. Seven hard-working Varsity players are graduating this year, so next year's teams will begin rebuilding in May in anticipation of another successful season in 1980.



Trudy [illegible] in high anticipation.

The 1979 Junior Varsity Volleyball team captured first place in the Century League with a perfect 14-0 record. The team consisted of three strong returning Juniors from last year's J.V. team, and nine very talented sophomores. Each win was an important one, but the girls played every game with good controlled volleyball, which is the key to winning in this sport.

Next year the team will continue to improve and challenge the Century League on the Varsity level. Congratulations J.V. for a perfect season.

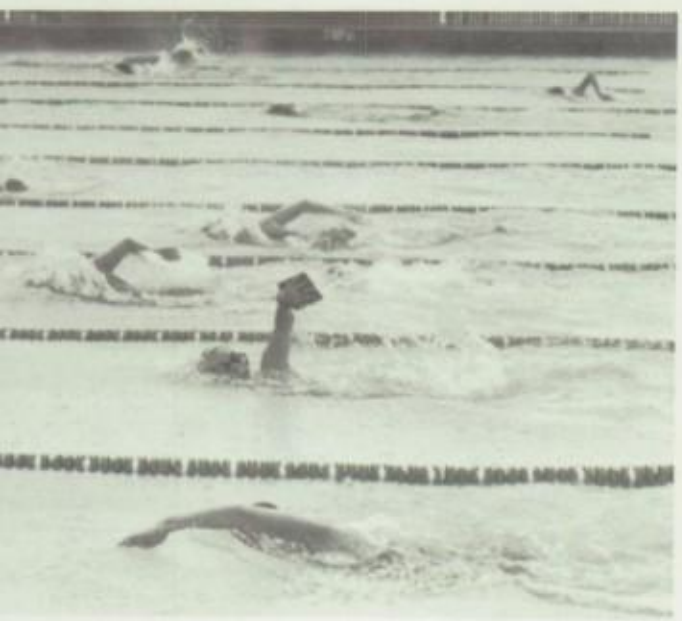
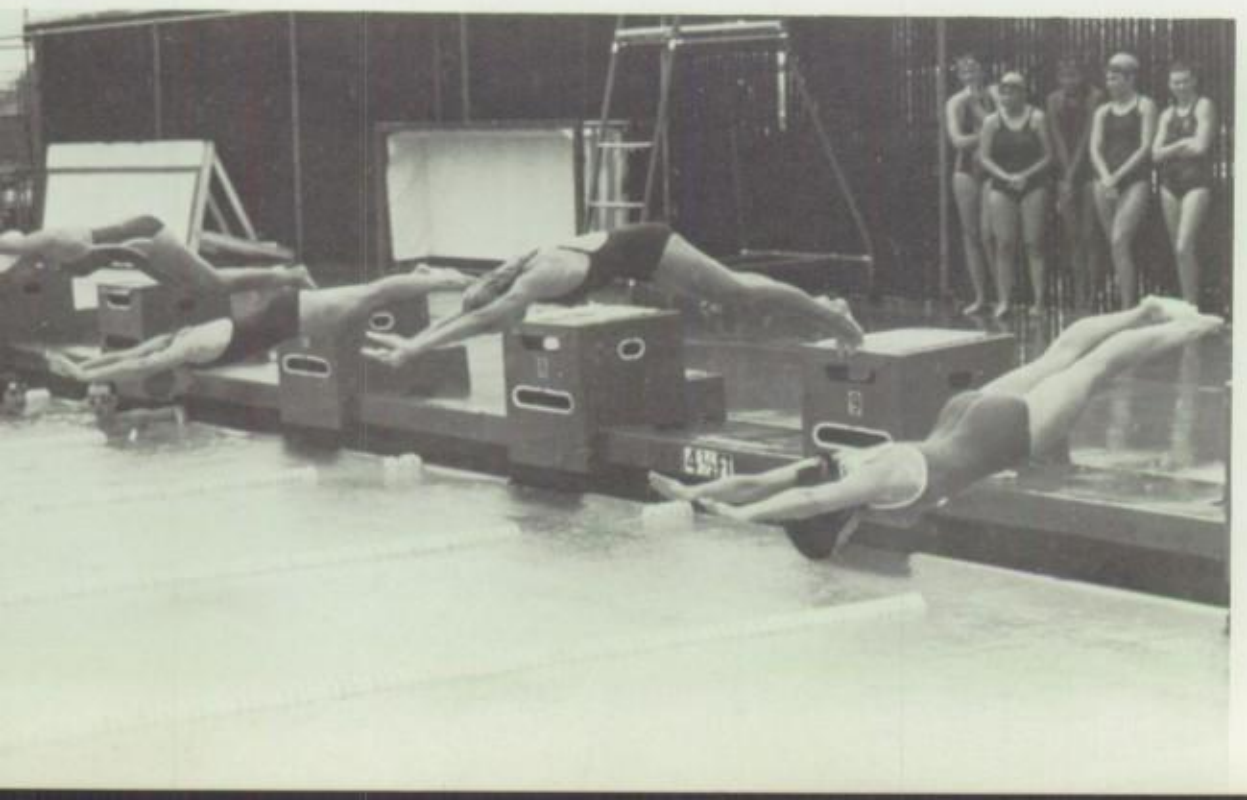
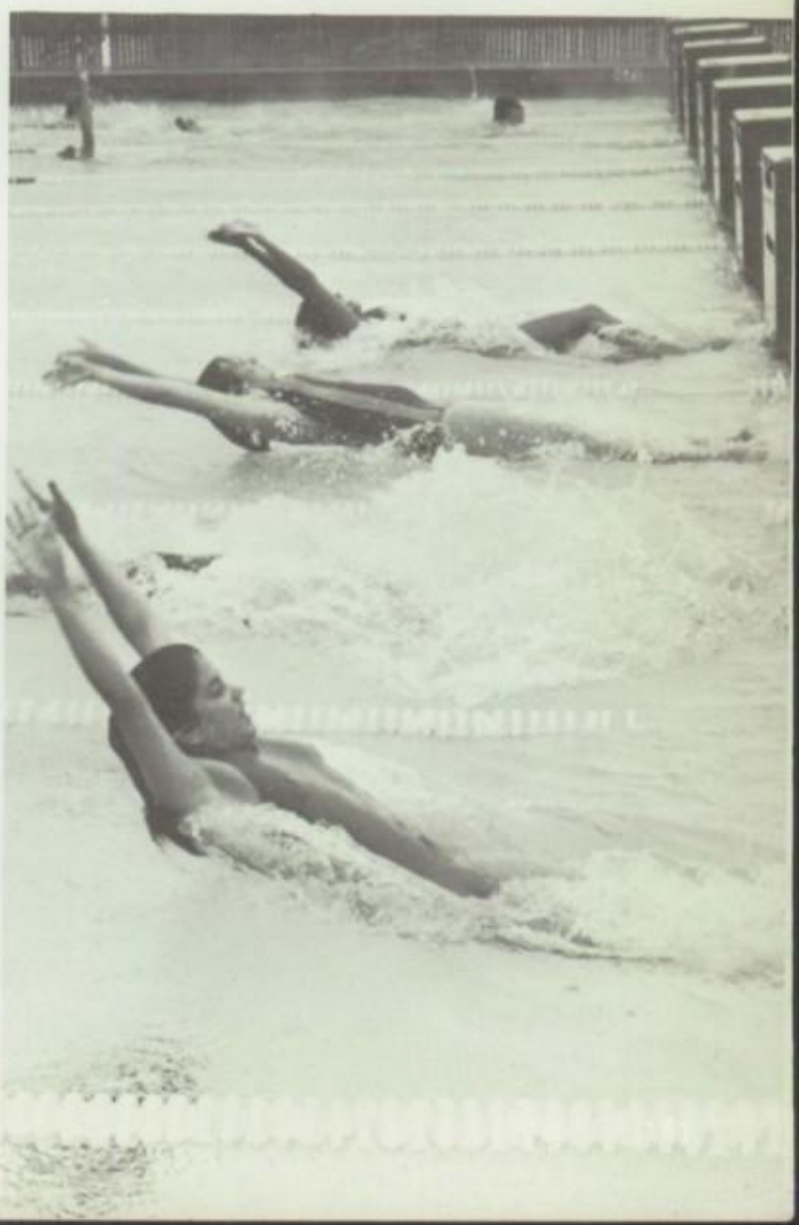
Girls Swimming Splashes Into Action

This year's swim team was hampered by many injuries, often to outstanding members of last year's team. The team was coached by Charlie Fisher and managed by Senior Lori Tomlin, one of the many swimmers whose injuries stopped her from competing. Senior Kathy Richel, one of last year's most valuable swimmers, was also sidelined. However, the team's performance was helped by Pauline Clausen, an outstanding sprinter, and Captain Kristy Parrish, who competed in the 500 yard freestyle.







Varsity Tennis

This year's tennis team did exceptionally well in comparison to recent years. Many outstanding individual performances led the Panthers to a 7-7 season. Senior Most Valuable Players were Kim Brittain and Cathy Ressler, both singles players. Leslie Hyndman was Junior M.V.P., as was Janet Parella for the sophomores. Both these girls could rarely be beaten on the court as doubles. Under the coaching of Miss Black, the Panthers should come back next year with an equally successful season if not better.

Orange High Fans Enthusiastically Support Our Teams

Enough cannot be said of the outstanding support we received at all of the sports events. During football season, students flooded into the bleachers of Kelly field. During basketball, the fans packed into the Orange "Dome" like sardines and yelled and went crazy in support of our teams. Also worth mentioning is the increased attendance at baseball games, soccer games, track meets and the other sports events. Thanks to the student body, the sports program has become better and better!

Faculty

This has been a successful year for the students and faculty at Orange High. Many of our students, under the direction of their teachers, coaches and sponsors, have received recognition for outstanding accomplishments in athletics, music, drama and journalism. In our classrooms, laboratories and shops, emphasis has been placed on meeting the objectives of the individual teachers. Our students have met this challenge well.

Those associated with Orange High School are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity to work with enthusiastic students who have so much potential. Because of the combined efforts of district personnel, parents, faculty and students, this school year has been one of Orange High's best.

Congratulations to our graduates!

Sincerely,

Richard Kirwan
